MAIO HOUSEHOLD · ONE WEEK

The Week

Ten areas of the house, seven days, one colour per adult. Teal is Ricardo, rose is Julie, amber is Lily. Read across a row to see who owns that job this week; read down a column to see whose day it is.

How the week holds together

- 17:00–20:00 is Julie's. Cluster feeding. Nobody books anything over it — dinner, baths and bedtime belong to everyone else.
- Nights are split every night: Ricardo 22:00–02:00, Julie 02:00–06:00. That is why the mornings sit with him.
- Care is not a chore. The feeds are hours, not tasks; they never move to balance a chart.

Worth confirming

- LILY Amber is the load to check with her first — laundry every day is more than it looks.
- POOL Assumes no pool service. A contract would empty two teal cells.
- BINS Refuse and recycling share a day in Welgemoed; confirm the street's day.
- HELPER Off by default. Switch it on to see which cells leave the family.
